Affenberg near Salem - Near Uhldingen, in a piece of woodland 20ha large, over 200 Barbary apes roam free.

Detailed description

Affenberg near Salem

A circular trail takes you right through the home area of over 200 barbary monkeys. They live completely freely in a 20 hectare large forest area - almost as if in the open air Wildlife.

During the visit you are in the middle of the animals. A great experience for young and old.

Trained staff will be happy to provide information and make small feedings with explanations for the spectators several times a day.

Further highlights are our stork colonies, our fallow deer and the numerous water birds and carp along the picturesque pond.
