Brunnenfeld-Loop | Bludenz

MODERATE | PANORAMIC | ROUND TRIP

Tour description

A wide running route to the east with short sections on forest and woodland paths along the River Ill with the option of combining two variants.

The first part of the route runs parallel to the city circuit and follows the main road in a south-westerly direction until you reach the railway subway and cross over to the other side. In a large loop, you run parallel to the Ill, first on the traffic-calmed road and then along the banks of the Ill on the footpath and cycle path. Follow the Ill upstream. After the small railway bridge, where the city loop branches off a little later, you keep the same direction and follow the Upper Illrain until you reach the last residential building.

From here, the forest path starts, leading you through a beautiful wooded area and giving you a taste of nature. Once you reach the motorway subway, you have the option of taking the Wiesenrain variant, otherwise follow the cycle path past the Brunnenfeld hydroelectric power station into the industrial estate. The way back towards the starting point initially runs along Brunnenfelderstraße, where caution is advised due to the lack of a pavement. At St Peter's Monastery, use the subway and follow the smaller paths along the built-up area, past the cemetery and the BMX area. After approx. 9 km, you pass the Val Blu leisure pool and the stadium and reach the starting point from a south-easterly direction.

There are two further variants of this route:

- Variant: 2a | Stallehr
- Variant: 2b | Wiesenrain
